Women in Russian Theatre Aug 04 2020 Women in Russian Theatre is a fascinating feminist counterpoint to the established area of Russian theatre populated by male artists such as Stanislavsky, Chekov and Meyerhold. With unprecedented access to newly-opened files in Russia, Catherine Schuler brings to light the actresses who had an impact upon Russian modernist theatre. Schuler brings to light the extraordinary lives and work of eight Russian actresses who flourished on the stage between the late nineteenth and early twentieth century.

A Manual for Translators of Mathematical Russian Jan 01 2023 This manual is intended for mathematicians who are fairly well acquainted with Russian and have a need to translate mathematical materials into English. Both of the editors worked extensively with such translations and, in the process of their work, kept records of problems, both grammatical and stylistic, that commonly turned up. The main part of the booklet presents typical examples: first the Russian text is given, then the faulty translation, an acceptable translation, and usually some comments. Although such a manual cannot be exhaustive, it does deal with many common mistakes and misconceptions. The examples are taken from the mathematical literature, making the manual of particular interest to mathematicians; however, it should also be useful to physicists, chemists, engineers, and anyone else concerned with the translation of scientific Russian into English.

Russian and West European Women, 1860-1939 Jun 01 2020 This ambitious study provides a sweeping overview of the position of women in England, France, Germany, and Russia/USSR from 1860-1939. The book illustrates their struggles to realize their dreams and their resourcefulness in coping with often dreary, hard, even horrifying lives. Deftly combining statistical data to underscore collective experiences and belles lettres to highlight the texture of individual women's lives, the book assesses the significance of gender, class, nationality, and religion. This richly researched work traces common patterns and unique experiences in women's lives by showing how they defined themselves, coped with daily life, and confronted disaster with courage and resourcefulness.

Multifunctional Composites Jun 25 2022 With the progress in nanotechnology and associated production methods, composite materials are becoming lighter, cheaper, more durable, and more versatile. At present, great progress has been made in the design, preparation, and characterization of composite materials, making them smarter and versatile. By creating new properties using suitable fillers and matrix, functional composites can meet the most challenging standards of users, especially in high-tech industries. Advanced composites reinforced by high-performance carbon fibers and nanofillers are popular in the automotive and aerospace industries thanks to their significant advantages, such as high specific strength to weight ratio and noncorrosion properties. In addition to the improvement of the mechanical performance, composite materials today are designed to provide new functions dealing with antibacterial, self-cleaning, self-healing, super-hard, and solar reflective properties for desired end-use applications. On the other hand, composite materials can contribute to mitigating environmental issues by providing renewable energy technologies in conjunction with multifunctional, lightweight energy storage systems with high performance and noncorrosive properties. They are also used to prepare a new generation of batteries and directly contribute to H₂ production or CO₂ reduction in fuels and chemicals. This Special Issue aims to collect articles reporting on recent developments dealing with preparative methods, design, properties, structure, and characterization methods as well as promising applications of multifunctional composites. It covers potential applications in various areas, such as anticorrosion, photocatalyst, absorbers, superhydrophobic, self-cleaning, antifouling/antibacterial, renewable energy, energy storage systems, construction, and electronics. The modeling and simulation of processes involving the design and preparation of functional and multifunctional composites as well as experimental studies involving these composites are all covered in this Special Issue.

The Oxford History of English Lexicography Apr 23 2022 These substantial volumes present the fullest account yet published of the lexicography of English from its origins in medieval glosses, through its rapid development in the eighteenth century, to a fully-established high-tech industry that is as reliant as ever on learning and scholarship. The history covers dictionaries of English and its national varieties, including American English, with numerous references to developments in Europe and elsewhere which have influenced the course of English lexicography. Part one of Volume I explores the early development of glosses and bilingual and multilingual dictionaries and examines their influence on lexicographical methods and ideas. Part two presents a systematic history of monolingual dictionaries of English and includes extensive chapters on Johnson, Webster and his successors in the USA, and the OED. It also contains descriptions of the development of dictionaries of national and regional varieties, and of Old and Middle English, and concludes with an account of the computerization of the OED. The specialized dictionaries described in Volume II include dictionaries of science, dialects, synonyms, etymology, pronunciation, slang and cant, quotations, phraseology, and personal and place names. This volume also includes an account of the inception and development of dictionaries developed for particular users, especially foreign learners of English. The Oxford History of English Lexicography unites scholarship with readability. It provides a unique and accessible reference for scholars and professional lexicographers and offers a series of fascinating encounters with the men and women involved over the centuries in the making of works of profound national and linguistic importance.

California Workers' Compensation Law and Practice Aug 23 2019 This edition keeps you up-to-date with 2 revamped chapters, statutory and rule changes, and hundreds of new cases updating all 24 chapters. Revamped chapters: Chapter 8 Permanent Disability: has been updated and reorganized to present the material in a more logical way. Much of the text has been completely re-written to enhance clarity. The discussion of liens and related topics previously covered in various chapters has been revised and consolidated in Chapter 10 Liens and Medical-Legal Cost Petitions. Other new and updated material: Reforms Enacted in 2018 are summarized. §1:55 Fair Labor Standards Act: Plaintiff had valid FLSA cause of action when the plaintiff sued his employer in state court and employer's attorney planned for ICE to take him into custody at a deposition and deport him. §2:220 Exclusion for National Guard Service: Applicant was ineligible for workers' compensation benefits for psychiatric injury arising out of a sexual assault that occurred while training with the California Army National Guard. §2:59 Aggravation or Exacerbation: A second injury that causes no additional temporary or permanent disability is likely an exacerbation. §4:41 Peace Officer and Firefighter Cancer Presumption: Can defendant's failure to produce HARP documents create an adverse inference? §4:61 Anti-Attribution Clauses: Appeals Board barred defendant from rebutting industrial causation where applicant contracted a blood-borne pathogen from a prior surgical scar and diverticulitis. §4:62 MTUS: Applicant's right to challenge diagnosis or treatment with second and third opinions versus defendant's right to control treatment through utilization review. §9:60 Resubmission to UR and the 12-Month Rule: Are the worker and treating doctor bound by the 12-month rule where there has been a misunderstanding of the medical facts?

§9:61.2 No Medical/Legal or Judicial Review of UR Denial: Court of Appeal cases reject arguments that the UR / IMR process is unconstitutional. §9:63 Failure to Pay TD: WCJ did not err in ordering defendant to pay 13 years of temporary disability plus penalties where defendant failed to petition for termination of temporary disability. §12:02 Safety Order Violations: Employer guilty of serious and willful misconduct for failing to utilize a “tag line” on a steel beam. §12:11 Supplemental Job Displacement Vouchers: Applicant was not entitled to a second LC §5814 penalty for delay in providing a supplemental job displacement voucher. §12:117 Officers/Owners as Employees: LC §3352(a)(16)(A) provides an exception from the definition of an employee for certain officers and members of the board of directors of quasi-public or private corporations. §13:245 Settlement of One Part of Body Does Not Preclude Claim to Another: Applicant’s claim for cumulative injury to his brain during his professional football career was not barred by a Compromise and Release Agreement settling an earlier claim of cumulative injury to other body parts. §15:50 Withdrawal Requests before Reconsideration Deadline Has Passed: Board finds no mutual mistake when defendant listed the wrong date of death which affected the amount of the death benefit payable to applicant. §15:102 Setting Aside Stipulated Awards: Board returns several cases to trial level for further hearings on whether mistake was mutual or unilateral. Board finds no good cause to set aside stipulations for unilateral mistake. §15:135 Non-attorney Representatives: Lien for fees filed by a non-attorney representative lien claimant was precluded by LC §4903(a), which does not allow fees for non-attorney representatives. §17:04 Attorney Sanctions: Sanctions for failure to appear (§17:22); inappropriate language and misrepresentations (§17:123), and failure to return the client’s file (§17:131) Petition to Reduce Disability: Failure to file a timely petition to reduce permanent disability did not preclude WCJ from re-rating applicant’s current level of disability with regard to petition to re-open for new and further disability. §18:116 IMR: Timeframes set forth in LC §4610.6(d) and ADR §9792.10.5(a)(1) with respect to the 45 days required for IMR to issue its decision are directory and not mandatory. §19:13 IMR: First District Court of Appeal affirms Board’s decision denying the applicant’s petition for the Board to order its IMR organization to disclose identities of first and second independent medical reviewers. Disqualification for Cause: Allegations of bias without sufficient detail will generally not support disqualification. §21:03 Permanent and Stationary Reports: One panel concludes that a final permanent and stationary report by the primary treating physician is not required so long as there has been an evaluation by a qualified medical evaluator addressing permanent disability. §21:06 Right to Testify: WCJ did not err in allowing applicant, who had been deported to Mexico, to testify at trial via a cell phone using the FaceTime application. §21:112 Record of Proceedings: In several cases, the Board reiterates the importance of creating a record including the identification of issues for determination to afford the parties due process. §21:190 Newly-Discovered Evidence: Board grants reconsideration based on newly discovered evidence finding that WCJ had determined the applicant’s credibility based on a misleading drug testing report and the mistaken belief that the applicant was not taking his prescribed pain medications.
